Virtual Screen Plan

The online equivalent of a venue map for two 2026 conferences run entirely on Zoom — where each session lives, how to move between screens, and what to check before the signal goes live.

DATES	TIME	PLATFORM	ACCESS
18–19 November 2026	10:00–16:00 GMT, London	Zoom Webinar + Meeting rooms	Personalised link on registration

How the screens connect

One main signal, four side channels, one help line underneath all of it.

01 MAIN STAGE	Keynotes & plenaries	Opening remarks, keynotes and closing plenary, run as a Zoom Webinar. Attendees watch and submit questions via Q&A; only speakers and chairs are on camera.	ZOOM WEBINAR CAPTIONS ON RECORDED
02 BREAKOUTS	Parallel sessions A / B / C	Three concurrent Zoom Meeting rooms carry the parallel paper and workshop tracks, each moderated by a session chair. Cameras and hand-raising welcomed.	ZOOM MEETING CAMERA OPTIONAL NOT RECORDED
03 POSTER HALL	E-poster gallery	Rotating five-minute poster walkthroughs across smaller breakout rooms. Presenters share their poster on screen and take questions directly after.	ZOOM MEETING SCREEN SHARE
04 LOUNGE	Networking lounge	Unstructured Zoom room for coffee-break conversation between sessions, grouped by interest area. Nothing here is chaired or recorded.	ZOOM MEETING INFORMAL
05 HELP DESK	Live technical support	Staffed for the full run of the conference. If a link fails, audio drops, or you're unsure which screen to be on, this is the room to walk into.	ZOOM MEETING ALWAYS STAFFED

Before you join

Five minutes of setup, the day before.

- ✓ Install the Zoom desktop app rather than joining from a browser — screen share and breakout rooms are more reliable.
- ✓ Test your personal link the day before; it's tied to your registration and shouldn't be forwarded.
- ✓ Check your programme against Greenwich Mean Time (UTC+0) — most calendar apps convert this automatically.
- ✓ Use a headset if presenting or asking live questions; laptop microphones pick up echo in breakout rooms.
- ✓ Keep the Help Desk link visible — it's the fastest way back in if anything drops.

How the day runs

The same rhythm repeats across both conference days.

- 1 Doors open 20 minutes early. Main Stage goes live for informal arrival before the welcome address.
- 2 Sessions run to the printed programme. A five-minute warning appears in Zoom chat before each changeover.
- 3 Questions go through Q&A or raised hands depending on the screen — chairs confirm which at session start.
- 4 Main Stage recordings post to your registration dashboard within 48 hours; breakouts and posters are not recorded.
